

South Carolina Elks Charitable Trust

September 15, 2022

Greetings, Brother and Sister Elks:

As you may have heard, the South Carolina Elks Charitable Trust is being reorganized in an effort to better help the communities our lodges serve. If you remember, the officers of the trust have recently been the officers of the state association. Under advisement from the Grand Lodge, at the summer convention in Greenville in August, a new slate of officers was elected. Those officers are:

Chairman of the Board: Fred Thompson, Murrells Inlet Lodge
President: William Malone, Rock Hill Lodge
President-elect: Bill Borchert, Greenville Lodge
Secretary: Tony Smith, Charleston Lodge
Treasurer: Bob Aiken, Fort Mill Lodge

In addition to being reorganized, the trust is exploring the possibility of expanding its monetary assistance to the families of individuals who experience dementia from Parkinson's Disease, stroke, etc. This will be in addition to the trust's traditional goal of helping those with Alzheimer's Disease.

The trust now needs to fill positions of directors. At least one director from each of the three districts is desired and the trust may decide upon two directors from each district. The trust is also seeking individuals to fill positions on committees. However, we need dedicated individuals who are truly interested in rolling up their sleeves and going to work to make this a success. If you are such a person and so inclined, we need you and want you to become involved. To accomplish this, please forward a brief resume' to Secretary Tony Smith at email address vpse@scelks.org.

Thank you for your consideration and your continuing support of the South Carolina Elks Charitable Trust.

Fraternally,

William Malone
President, SC Elks Charitable Trust
